

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

The broad smiles still lingering on the faces of FORUM editors these days come from the reviews of their special May issue on Chicago, which have been rolling in from readers and critics alike. Among the comments of nonpartisan critics, these were particularly welcome: "You really captured the spirit and vigor of a great city."—William L. Slayton, Federal Urban Renewal Commissioner; "... really thrilling. I appreciate not only the splendid material you dug up but the effort and artistry involved in the presentation."—Henry Steinhardt, St. Paul architect; and "... the best thing I've even seen done in an industry publication." — Tom Bross, Cincinnati manufacturer. In Chicago the enthusiastic newspaper reviews made the front pages.

Thank you, Chicago—J.C.H. JR.
