1994

CONTENTS

Foreword

- History and Science at the Carnegie Institution of Washington
Maxine Singer, President, CIW

v

Preface

- Gregory A. Good

ix

Introduction

- The Breadth, Height, and Depth of the Geosciences and Space Sciences at the Carnegie Institution of Washington
Gregory A. Good

xi

Early Years: Founding the CIW and Defining Geophysics

- Andrew Carnegie and Charles Doolittle Walcott: The Origin and Early Years of the Carnegie Institution of Washington
Ellis L. Yochelson

- Development and Promotion of the Initial Scientific Program for the Geophysical Laboratory
H. S. Yoder, Jr.

21

- Vision of a Global Physics: The Carnegie Institution and the First World Magnetic Survey
Gregory A. Good

29

- Vilhelm Bjerknes's Duty to Produce Something Clear and Real in Meteorological Science
Ralph Jewell

37

In the Field: The CIW and Expeditions

- Climate and History: Raphael Pumpelly's Geoarcheological Expeditions to Turkestan
Peggy Champlin

47

- Weighing the Earth from a Submarine: The Gravity Measuring Cruise of the U.S.S. S-21
Naomi Oreskes

53

- Amundsen and Edmonds: Entrepreneurial and Institutional Exploration
S. M. Silverman and Marion Edmonds Smith

69

- Expeditions and the CIW: Comments and Contentions
Ronald E. Doel

79

The Heavens: The Mount Wilson Observatory

- Sharing a Mountaintop: The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory on Mount Wilson
R. S. Brashear

89

- A Fox Raiding the Hedgehogs: How Henry Norris Russell Got to Mt. Wilson
David H. DeVorkin

103

- Converting an Hypothesis into a Research Program: T. C. Chamberlin, his Planetesimal Hypothesis, and its Effect on Research at the Mt. Wilson Observatory
N. S. Hetherington

113

- Women and Women's Work at Mt. Wilson Observatory before World War II
John Lankford

125

- Commentary on the Mt. Wilson Papers
Owen Gingerich

129

Sounding the Ionosphere

- The Big Story: Tuve, Breit, and Ionospheric Sounding, 1923-1928 133
C. Stewart Gillmor

- Building a Washington Network for Atmospheric Research 143
Bruce Hevly

International Spin-offs of Carnegie Research

- To Watheroo and Back: The DTM in Australia, 1911-1947 149
R. W. Home

- Some Memories of the Watheroo Magnetic Observatory 161
W. D. Parkinson

- A Canadian Life with Geomagnetism: The Research of Frank T. Davies 165
J. E. Kennedy and W. O. Kupsch

- Dr. C. T. Kwei and the Carnegie in China in 1930s and 1940s 171
Wang Shen, Liang Baixian, and Hu Xinru

Post-War Geophysics at the CIW

- Chopping and Changing at the DTM 1946-1958: M. A. Tuve, Rock Magnetism, and Isotope Dating 173
H. E. Le Grand

- Merle A. Tuve's Post-War Geophysics: Early Explosion Seismology 185
Thomas D. Cornell

- Isotope Geology at Carnegie 1950-1970: Dating Earth Processes 215
L. T. Aldrich
