Retaining structures

Proceedings of the conference Retaining structures organized by the Institution of Civil Engineers and held at Robinson College, Cambridge on 20 – 23 July 1992

Edited by C. R. I. Clayton

Thomas Telford, London
Contents

General principles

- History of retaining wall designs. J. KERISEL .................................................. 1
- Introduction. C. R. I. CLAYTON ................................................................. 17
- The selection, design and performance of a multi-propped contiguous pile wall in Norwich. W. J. GROSE and B. H. TOONE ......................... 24
- Installation effects of diaphragm walls in clay. W. POWRIE and C. KANTARTZI ................................................................. 37
- Finite element modelling of installation effects. M. J. GUNN, A. SATKUNANANTHAN and C. R. I. CLAYTON .................................................. 46
- Surcharge and elasto-plastic computations of earth retaining structures. P. J. SCHMITT and C. M. GILBERT ........................................... 56
- Influence of seepage flow on the passive earth pressures. A. H. SOUBRA and R. KASTNER ................................................................. 67
- Discussion ........................................................................................................... 77

Numerical and physical modelling

- Introduction. W. POWRIE .................................................................................. 83
- The use of laboratory derived soil parameters for the prediction of retaining wall behaviour. K. G. HIGGINS, D. M. POTTTS and I. F. SYMONS ................................................................. 92
- The application of the CRISP finite element program to practical retaining wall problems. R. I. WOODS and C. R. I. CLAYTON ......................... 102
- Statically admissible earth pressure and bearing capacity calculations. K. MORTENSEN .................................................................................. 112
- Ground movements caused by displacements of earth retaining walls. M. MARUOKA, M. AOKI, E. SATO and Y. IKUTA ................................................................. 121
- Analysis of the behaviour of propped diaphragm walls in a deep clay deposit. A. J. WHITTLE and Y. M. A. HASHASH ........................................... 131
- Balanced seismic design - improving the seismic efficiency of anchored retaining walls. M. BUDHU, G. NEELAKANTAN and R. RICHARDS ................................................................. 140
