Table of contents

PREFACE	IX
LIST OF SYMBOLS	XI
1 INTRODUCTION	1
1.1 Objective and target group	1
1.2 Framework of the book	1
PART 1: GENERAL
2 EXAMPLES	5
2.1 Introduction	5
2.2 Examples	5
2.3 Summary	10
3 PROPERTIES AND FUNCTIONAL APPLICATIONS	11
3.1 Introduction	11
3.2 Basic materials, processing and end products	11
3.3 Functional applications and properties of end products	16
3.4 Elaboration of the examples	17
3.5 Transformation of properties	25
3.6 Remaining aspects	27
3.7 Summary	29
PART 2: DESIGN CONSIDERATIONS
4 REINFORCEMENT FUNCTION	33
4.1 Introduction	33
4.2 Functional properties	33
4.3 Types of reinforcement and anchoring	37
4.4 Design considerations	39

VI Geosynthetics in civil engineering

4.5	Design calculations for an embankment on a natural ground with low bearing capacity	40
4.6	Design calculation for a road base on a natural ground with low bearing capacity	43
4.7	Design method for a steep slope bank	44
4.8	Remaining aspects	46
4.9	Summary	47
5	FILTER AND SEPARATION FUNCTION	49
5.1	Introduction	49
5.2	Functional properties	49
5.3	Design considerations	53
5.4	Design rules	56
5.5	Remaining aspects	57
5.6	Summary	60
6	SCREEN FUNCTION	63
6.1	Introduction	63
6.2	Functional properties	63
6.3	Design consideration	64
6.4	Remaining aspects	65
6.5	Summary	69
7	DAMAGE AND AFFECTION	71
7.1	Introduction	71
7.2	Mechanical damage	71
7.3	Affection by the environment	73
7.4	Affection of the environment by a geosynthetic	74
7.5	Summary	75
8	QUALITY ASSURANCE	77
8.1	Introduction	77
8.2	Certification	77
8.3	Quality assessment	79
8.4	Practical tests	81
8.5	Terms of reference/builders specifications	81
8.6	Summary	81

PART 3: ELABORATED EXAMPLES

9 EMBANKMENT ON A NATURAL GROUND WITH LOW BEARING CAPACITY	85
9.1 Description	85
9.2 Design considerations	85
9.3 Calculations	87
10 RIVERBANK PROTECTION	93
10.1 Description	93
10.2 Filter-calculation	93
10.3 Strength of the geosynthetic	95
10.4 Remaining aspects	97
10.5 Choice of the geosynthetic	98
11 LANDFILL	99
11.1 Description	99
11.2 Design	99
11.3 Fixing and jointing	103
LITERATURE	105
