

Architectural Design

Volume XLI February 1971

Contents

Cover Garbage Hall by Adrian George (See Martin Pawley on Garbage housing p.86)

66 Cosmorama

71 Exhibitions

73 Three tube buildings
Eventstructure Research Group.
Foster Associates.
Arup Associates.

77 The pursuit of ordinariness
St. Hilda's Garden Building, Oxford.
Alison and Peter Smithson

86 Garbage housing
Martin Pawley

95 Liberty communes
Brand Griffin

96 Map guide: Brussels
Francis Strauven

100 Summer Session: a letter to Warren Chalk
Peter Cook

105 Sector
Peter Cowan, Peter Smith, Roy Landau

109 Buildings

113 Projects
Venturi and Rauch

117 Books

120 Things

123 Hardware Alexander Pike

127 Odds and . . .

129 Letters

Next month

By now readers will have become accustomed to the new AD size and style, and the increased use of colour that it has been possible to introduce at no extra cost through printing by web offset. The next change to be made is a reorganisation of the editorial content for ease of comprehension. Cosmorama will be curtailed and will confine itself to the world of ideas. But a new section, Catalogue, will contain information about actual products, things available in the UK or abroad. While Sector will continue to deal with architecture and planning as problem solving activities. These regular sections are additional to the main features of the magazine, which next month focus on the work of Frei Otto discussed by himself, Kenzo Tange, Rolf Gutbrod, Edmund Happold and Theo Crosby.