

Contents

Cover

Collage by Peter Cook. Photo by Sandra May.

Summaries/French

- 547 Security's big rip-off
Martin Pawley anticipates that owner-occupiers may close ranks to guard their securities.
- 548 Urban impasse
Fritz Schumacher draws connections between the demise of cheap energy and the impasse that modern cities have reached.
- 551 Letters
- 553 Books
- 561 Suburbs, toys, lumps + seaside, rural calm
Five situations offered by Peter Cook as a counter-list to the 'correctness' of architecture.
- 573 Mat-building: how to recognise and read it
Alison Smithson presents a catalogue of plans and photos with which she shows how mainstream architecture has developed towards mat-building.

- 591 Solar house at Rickmansworth
Graham Stevens discusses the solar house at Rickmansworth designed and built by Ed Curtis all of eighteen years ago.
- 593 Energy conservation policy
Robert Drew reviews a Dutch report on national energy policies whose approach and conclusions are of wider significance.
- 595 CUPID – a computer game
Khrishna Mathur has devised a computer game for studying the decision-making activity in architectural design.
- 599 Planning
Maida Vale redevelopment. BRAG case study no. 10. Bogota structure plan.
- 603 Housing
Public Health Advisory Service. Shelter's housing rights.
- 604 Round-up
RIBA awards. Prize winning museums. Historic buildings' survey. Kenya markets. Lozziworm. Buildings for handicapped people. Isokon's search. Prefabricated capsules.
- 609 Arts
Dadd as a precedent. Black Box Theatre.

Summaries/German