

Contents

CONTENTS

- Cover
Phase 4 hairstyle in Zambia. See page 626.
- 611 Summaries/French
- 612 Archispeak
Walter Menzies hits out at jargon
- 613 Books
- 618 A sense of unity
Keith Critchlow reviews the book 'A sense of unity: the Sufi tradition in Persian architecture' by Nadar Ardalan and Laleh Baktiar.
- 626 The architecture of underdevelopment
— or the route to self determination in design
Richard Martin illustrates the impact of alien values on aspects of built design in Zambia, and looks to the development of a specifically African style
- 636 Briefing: hotels
Sam Stephenson and Judith Neligan distinguish two broad categories of modern hotels — the commercial and the 'religious'/touristic — and discuss the problems of designing either, whether large or small.
- 648 Wellington Hospital
London's new private general hospital, by Yorke Rosenberg Mardall, containing 98 individual ward suites and costing over £2 800 000. A distinct contrast with National Health Service scales of accommodation.
- 651 Habitat warehouse
Ahrends Burton and Koralek built a new depot for Habitat, one of Britain's leading mass-producers of domestic furniture and equipment.
- 653 Nixon Memorial library
A spoof?
- 655 Adaptable row houses in Norway
Andrew Rabeneck describes a large adaptable housing project near Oslo which employs a method of construction and planning principles developed by a team under Erik Hultberg in collaboration with Professor Nils-Ole Lund.
- 660 Milton Keynes feedback
Philip Pearson, Alan Riley, Nicholas Falk, and Roger Kitchen discuss various points about the new city — arising out of the special feature published in AD 8/74.
- 663 Planning
Robin Thompson discusses the recurrent problems of inner city areas, drawing on a number of recent reports.
- 665 Round up
John Andrews. Djeddah civic centre. ED-kit. In La Coruna Kiosque. Tooley's tent. Award winner. Urban carpet. So what's new? Edinburgh opera. Civil service architects. Services for the home. Bathroom friend.
- 675 Arts
Anton Tapies. Soft art. Architecture without architects.
- 676 Summaries/German