Series Editor's Foreword	ix
Preface	xi
1 Overview of Geostatistics	1
A Few Definitions	2
Geostatistics on the Computer	3
A Simple Geostatistical Case Study	5
2 The Semivariogram
Basic Calculation and Principles	13
Anisotropy	19
Practical Effect of Distance Tolerance	21
Stationarity	22
Modeling an Observed Semivariogram	25
Theoretical Models	25
Nugget Effect	29
Nested Models	31
Admissibility	33
A Simple Example	34
A More Complex Model	38

Yet More Complex Models	43
Hole Effects	43
Geometric Anisotropy	46
Zonal Anisotropy	50
Autocorrelation	51
Autoregressive Processes	52
Outliers, Normality, and Robustness	59
The Role of the Computer	73
Using a Spreadsheet	73
Nested Anisotropic Model	77
The h-Scattergram	91
Summary	98
3 Linear Estimation	101
Kriging Equations	102
Terms in the Kriging System	105
Properties of Kriged Estimates	107
Examples Along Transects	112
Examples	117
Thickness of Clastic Section	117
Initial Potential of Upper Devonian Gas	120
Huron Shale Thickness	132
Summary	136
4 Multivariate Geostatistics	139
Coregionalization	140
Cokriging Equations	141
Details of Computations	143
Example: Synthetic Data	144
A Stratigraphic Application	150
Initial Potentials and Cumulative Production	159
Principal Components Analysis	165
Summary	167
5 Nonlinear Estimation	169
Methodology	171
Normalization	171
The Experimental Semivariogram	172
Coefficients of Hermite Expansion	172
Estimation	174
Normalization: Examples	175
Initial Potentials	175
Huron Shale Thickness	177

Semivariograms of Normalized Data	180
Estimation	185
Summary and Parting Comments	192

6 From Indicator Variables to Nonparametric

Estimation	195
Nonparametric Estimation	200
Functions of the Estimates	203
Examples	204
Shale Thickness	204
Initial Potential in Barbour County	210
Initial Potential in Southwestern West Virginia	214
Probability Kriging	230
Summary	231

7 More Detail, Less Certainty: Conditional

Simulation	233
Nonconditional Simulation	234
Conditional Simulation	237
Case Studies	237
Initial Potentials in Lincoln County	237
Cumulative Gas Production	242
Related Methods	253
Multivariate Simulation	253
Conditional Indicator Simulation	255

Summary 256
